NEW GOLD FIELDS. A Great Rush to the Diggings in

Lower California. SAN PRANCISCO, March 6 .- The gold excitement in Lower California, near Ensenada, is increasing, and many people are flocking from San Diego to the gold fields. Work on the Cuyamaca, San Diego and Eastern railroad is stopped and the workmen are leaving in a body for the mines. Steamers between San Diego and Encenada have doubled their rates, but the rush continues and stages are now running overland carrying many persons direct to the mines. The San Diego papers declare that their development covers 100 miles square, and the placer mines are making a great deal of money. Thirteen thousand dollars in gold dust was brought into Enseanda and San Diego yesterday. Nearly all of the California papers have urged the people to be cautious about rushing into the mines, owing to the fact that many of the recently reported gold discoveries in California failed to carry out of the first indications of wealth, but there seems to be no question but that the people in ment in Lower California, near Ensenada, is seems to be no question but that the people in the southern portion of the state now believe that a new and really profitable gold field has

On February 3d a great parade took place in honor of Legitime, in which all the troops of the capital took part. On Jan. 4. General O. Piquant, Legitime's secretary, of state and commander of the second corps of the army in the west, left L'Arcoble at the head of a division, met the insurgents, and after a of a division, met the insurgents, and after a two days' fight defeated Hippolyte's forces.

In a subsequent encounter Gen. Jec Marcie, a prominent officer of Hippolyte's staff, was taken prisoner. On January 11 a division of Legitime's army marching foward Jalleire defeated the insurgents in a fight at Claireur in which Hippolyte lost four flags, fffty cases of cartridges, twelve carbines and eight horses. Gen. Preus Caba, chief of the rebel force, was killed and many of his soldiers made prisoners. Since the latter encounter the captain of the Andes says Legitime has invariably been successful in his battles. A few days before the Andes left Port-au-Prince the rebels lost the following important cities of the north: La Grand Saliene, situated between St. Marc, and Gonaives, the commune of Marma-lade, as far north as Eanery; Hioche, St. Michael, Jalliere and St. Luizzane. The report published here last month of the death of the commander of the Haytian man-of-war Belize is contradicted by the Andes' captain. The commander of the Belize was alive and well and in charge of that vessel when the Andes left.

One of the Andes' officers says that the only cable station in Hayti at LeMoll was in charge of Hippolyte, and that this fact accounted for the numerous reports of Legitime's defeat.

AND ENDORSEMENTS - THREE PROMINENTLY MENTIONED FOR COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS

There were two candidates for the office of commissioner of pensions in the Arlington lobby this morning. These are not the only candidates in the field by any means, but they are in the front rank of probabilities. Their names are Gen. Theodore L. Poole, formerly pension agent at Syracuse, N. Y., and "Corporal" Tanner, of Brooklyn. There is one other who stands on about the same line as these Gen. William Gibson, of Ohio. The fight probably lies between Poole and Gibson, and their friends are very active securing endorsement from Senators, Representatives, and other influential sources for their candidates.

GEN. POOLE IS VERY HOPEFUL cess. He has an extensive acquaintance with the workings of the pension laws and office, having been the agent at Syracuse for nine years. He has but one arm, having lost the left during the war. He is very popular in his state and is backed by strong recommendations. The entire New York delegation in Congress, all but a few of the members of the state legislature and every Grand Army post in the state but three have indorsed his candidacy. Other eastern states have been also heard from in his support. He says he has no doubt if the position goes to New York that he will be the man. Oregon and Indiana are not going to present a candidate. Gen. Gibson is a formidable rival, being a political orator of considerable fame. Ohio, of course, backs him strongly. "Corporal" Tanner has lost both legs and is well known as a political talker and worker. fice, having been the agent at Syracuse for nine

FOR COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION. The presence of a large number of the lead ing educators of the country in this city at this time in connection with the meeting of the department of superintendence has given rise to considerable talk about the new commissioner of education. A delegate jokingly expressed the opinion in conversation with a STAR reporter to-day that there were at least ninety-nine candidates for that position. Among the leading names mentioned are the following: Thos. H. Morgan, of Providence, R. I., who was a member of President Harrison's old regiment; Dr. W. T. Harris, of Concord, Mass.; Thos. W. Pickrell, of Boston; D. L. Kiehle, state superintendent, Minnesota; Henry Sabin, state superintendent, Iowa; John Hancock. commissioner of education of Iowa; W. E. Sheldon, editor of Journal of Education, Boston; Geo. Howland, superintendent of schools, Chicago, and E. E. White, superintendent of schools, Cincinnati, The First Assertion of President Harrison's old regiment; Dr. W. T. Harris, of Concord, Mass.; The President in reply expressed his appreciation of the kindness, and said that when, in looking over the assemblage, he recognized many of his own town's people, he regretted that the capacity of the White House, as large as it was, prevented him from extending to them the home-like reception that he wished to give to his own people. Among their recommendations were that the fiscal year should end June 30, and a book of forms providing for a complete and uniform report for each road. "Railroad legislation" was the next subject for consideration. A paper on the subject, pre-pared by the Iowa commission, was referred without reading to a committee consisting of Messrs. Woodruff. of Connecticut; Campbell, of Iiowa, and Mitchell, of New Hampshire, to which committee the whole subject was referred, with instructions to make partial report this afternoon and a further report at the next annual session.

MUNDREDS OF PROPER BAGRE TO TAKE HIM BY THE HAND-THE CHIEF JUSTICE AND ASSOCIATE JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT CALL-A SPECIAL BECEPTION TO INDIANIANS.

President Harrison began to feel the burden of his office early this morning. The strangers in the city are all determined to see him in the White House, if possible, before going away. The crowd was about the gates at an early breakfast hour.

At half-past 9 o'clock the President began the day's reception. The delegation from North and South Dakota called at that hour, and during the most of the day other delegations were being received or were standing at the doors waiting admission. Probably four or six thousand people were received dur-ing the day. Many had to wait in line for two hours or longer. The President's time was divided between receiving delegations down-stairs and particular individual statesmen up in his private office.

The Chief Justice and associate justice of the

The Chief Justice and associate justice of the Sapreme Court were received at 11 o'clock in the blue parlor. After that he received the Corn club of Missouri, the Ohio delegation, the Indiana people, the Old Guards of the District; the Western Zouaves of Elizabeth, N. J.; besides two or three thousand people not especially grouped as to organizations or locality. SPECIAL RECEPTION TO INDIANIANS. The Indiana people were given a special re-ception a little before 12 o'clock, ahead of the others assembled in front of the White House at that hour. There were four or five hundred of them, led by Representative Browne and Ex-Minister John W. Foster, Representative Steele and Col. Bridgeland. When they entered the east room the doors were closed, after which each was presented by Colonel Wilson to the president, who stood near the middle of the room. After all had shaken hands, Representative Browne stepped up to the hands, Representative Browne stepped up to the president's side and extended the congratulations of the people of Indiana. He said that the people assembled from the President's native state wished to extend to him their heartfelt congratulations upon his safe induction into office and to express their hopes and prayers that his strength will be sufficient to meet the trying duties which had been imposed to give to his own people. He felt encouraged by their expressions of sympathy in the performance of the duties of his office, which were harrassing as well as responsible.

After the Indiana people passed out of the east room the others waiting at the door were admitted. A DELEGATION OF SOUTHERN SEPUBLICANS eaded by Representative McComas and Gen. Chalmers, of Mississippi, and including all the southern republicans in Congress except Mr. Houk, who was represented by his son, had an audience with the President in his private office. John S. Wise and some of the Mahone men were present as an indication of harmony. They thanked the President for the position he took in his inaugural on the southern question, and then pre-sented the name of Gen. Blair, of Virginia, for the position of solicitor-general. All the southern republicans, they said, united in this recommendation—there were no factions General Chalmers, speaking with a STAR re-porter about the President's inaugural, said that it was just what the south wanted if it was e rried out. Laws must be passed, however, ne said, or declarations would amount to noth-and the certification thereof should be in the hands of federal authorities. Gen. Henderson, of Iowa, was received by the President in his office, and introduced Hon E. Johnson, member of the Iowa legislature, and W. G. Joerns, of Duluth. Ex-Representative Thomas, of Illinois, called and introduced Hon. C. G. Neely and Hon. J. F. Going, mem-bers of the Illinois legislature, and Dr. Neely, of this city. Secretary Windom, Secretary Proctor, Secretary Noble and Secretary Rusk saw the President and Secretary Halford during the morning. Other morning callers received upstairs were Senators Hiscock, Dolph and Allison, Representatives White, McRea, Anderson, of Kansas Adams, of Illinois, and Dibble, of South Caro lina. Representative Farquhar saw the president and recommended the appointment of Col. J. W. Jacobs of New York city, as surveyor of the port of New York. THE NEW YORK APPOINTMENTS generally are an uncertain quantity, and the President will be doing very well indeed if he that the U. S. S. Juniata, recently put out of gets through with them without getting into trouble. Senator Hiscock's call lasted until the President was obliged to go down stairs to re-ceive the Indiana folks, and it is supposed that the subject of New York appointments was not neglected in the conversation that occurred between them The New York delegation held a meeting at the Randall house last night which lasted until after midnight and was devoted to the discussion of the New York patronage. The collectorship of the port was the thing that occupied the most earnest attention. A number of people have been spoken of for this position. It was said at the time that it was among the possibilities that Miller would go into the cabinet that Platt would be satisfied with this office. But since neither Miller nor Platt got into the cabinet and Tracy is regarded as a Platt man, the other folks will probably lay claim to the collectorship. Mr. Miller's friends will probably put up John F. Plummer as a candidate. Coll Erbart is spoken of also. The New York delegation held a meeting at

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE RUSK took the oath of office at 3 o'clock this afterpoon. It was administered by Mr. O. M. La Dow. There were present ex-Secretary Coleman, Mr. L. R. Rusk, a son of the Secretary, and Hon. M. T. Bunton, SECRETARY OF WAR PROCTOR.

Gov. Proctor reached the War department shortly after 12:30 o'clock, and found Secretary Endicott and all of the bureau officers waiting to receive him. He was at once sworn in. nated by the presiding elders were confirmed: Chief Clerk Tweedale administering the oath of Bible society—D. M. Browning, Solomon Goroffice. The new Secretary thereupon sat down at the desk and affixed his signature to the oath, after which Mr. Endicott presented the Secretary Proctor, a few moments later, made a little speech to them. He said that it was an inevitable result of our system of governing public affairs that a man comes into office en-tirely unacquainted with the details of its duties, but that he hoped, with their aid, to administer affairs without any serious errors. He soon after left the building and went to his cooms at the Arlington.

MR. WANAMAKER ARRIVES. Postmaster-General Wanamaker arrived here at 12 noon. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wanamaker, their youngest son and his wife, and Mr. Thomas Dolan, president of the Manufac-Mr. Thomas Dolan, president of the Manutac-turer's club. They were met and greeted at the Baltimore and Ohio depot by Representa-tive Charles O'Neill, of Philadelphia; Mr. Rich-ard Quay, and Mr. Leech, Senator Quay's pri-vate secretary. The new Postmaster-General has selected the Arlington for his temporary

Mr. Wanamaker pressed his lips on the Bible which had been used by the judge in swearing the twenty-five preceding Postmasters-Generals. The officials and other employes were then introduced to Mr. Warnenders and the second control of the sec luced to Mr. Wanamaker.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL DICKINSON went to New York this morning in company with Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland. He expects to return on Saturday. There is nothing known at the department of the plans of the new Postmaster-General, Mr. Wanamaker, or when he will assume charge of the department. MESSRS, VILAS AND NOBLE OLD FRIENDS. The Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Vilas, is an old friend of Mr. Noble, the newly confirmed secretary, having served with him in the same regiment. Mr. Vilas and Mr. Noble have ex-changed calls, and Mr. Vilas expresses his pleasure in being able to turn over the department to one in whom he takes such a warm personal interest as Mr. Noble. From what the latter said in the course of conversation last evening. Mr. Vilas inferred that he would not ssume his new duties until to-morrow. Mr. Vilas expects to return at once to his home in

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR. Mr. Noble, new Secretary of Interior, arrived at the department at 2:30. At 3 o'clock he was sworn by Justice Miller, of the Supreme Court, who is a personal friend of Mr. Noble's. He was introduced to the officers and employes of the Interior department by Mr. Vilas.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MILLER vas sworn in about 1:30 o'clock to-day in the presence of Solicitor-General Jenks and other officials of the department. Ex-Attorney-General Garland met him early in the day and introduced him to all the officials of the department, but was not able to be present when he qualified ecause he had business at the Supreme Court at that hour.

TWO NON-POLITICAL DEPARTMENTS. The new Secretaries of War and the Navy The new Secretaries of War and the Navy will not have at their disposal as many important and lucrative places as will some of their colleagues in the cabinet. The officers of the two services are utilized in the various branches, and all that remains for the secretary of either department to do is to play chess, if he wants to with the minor offices, chief clerks, chiefs of divisions, clerks, and messengers. In the Navy department even these are limited, the force being very small, but in the War department there a whole army of officials holding their breath in expectation.

THE INAUGURAL FINANCES. The Receipts Expected to Approach Seventy Thousand Dollars.

The Carriages and Outfit Moved into the White House Stables To-day.

Mr. Towers, the financial clerk of the augural executive committee was the only person in continuous session at inaugu-ral headquarters to-day. Mr. Britton and other members of the executive committee were present during the morning and talked over matters. All were highly pleased with the results of the labors of the com-mittee. The executive committee will hold a final session Saturday night, when it is expected that all the business connected it is expected that all the business connected with the inauguration will be closed up.

It is desired that all persons having claims against the committee shall present them at once, so that the accounts can be settled by Friday. The final report of receipts and expenditures has not yet been made up, but it will probably be submitted to the committee Saturday night. It is known that there will be a surplus of $20,000 or more after paying all expenses and $20,000 or more after paying all expenses and returning all of the $50,000 guarantee to the ubscribers.

Financially the committee has achieved an unprecedented success. THE STAR stated yesterday that Chairman Britton estimated 1,200 tickets to the bail had been sold.

Tue figures at the committee rooms showed that 11,999 were sold. The one ticket necessary to make 12,000 was sold, so a STAR reporter was informed by Mr. Warner, the treasurer, who, to accommodate a friend. the treasurer, who, to accommodate a friend. took one out of a number held in reserve and old it.

The receipts from this source will be $60,000. There were about 16,000 tickets sold to the promenade concerts yesterday at 50 cents each and the ball tickets are still being sold as souvenirs for $1 each. It is expected that the receipts will foot up about $70,000.

The committee on fireworks to-day requested the Commissioners to shut down the electric lights from 6:45 to 7:45 this evening during the illumination of Pennsylvania avenue, as it was illumination of Penusylvania avenue, as it was thought the illumination would be more effectthought the illumination would be more effective if these lights were extinguished. The Commissioners declined to grant the request, on the ground of public policy. They did not think, in view of the great crowds of people in the city, that it would be a prudent measure.

The decorations and furniture of the rooms occupied by the President, Vice-President, diplomatic corps, and the reception committee in the pension building were removed to-day by Mr. Wash. B. Williams, who had placed them there at his own expense. The rich hangings and furniture were much admired, not only at the ball, but by the thousands who attended the promenade concert last evening. BALTIMORE M. E. CONFERENCE.

Opening its Session in Baltimore. Standing Committees Named.

Special Dispatch to THE EVENING STAR. BALTIMORE, March 6 .- The 105th annual session of the Baltimore M. E. Conference, met at Grace church this morning, Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, of Minnesota, presiding. The first hour, from 9 to 10 o'clock, was taken up with religious exercises, Rev. J. H. Clair Neal, secretary of the last conference, called the roll. Rev. W. T. Clemm wanted to have the name of the temperance committee changed to prohibition committee, because the worl temperance was too indefinite. Rev. M. F. B. Rice, of Washington, said that if the brother read his discipline he would never have made the mo-tion. The conference should stand by the record. Mr. Clemm's motion was generally opposed and lost. Memorial services were fixed for Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. D. H. Carroll made the report of the Baltimore City missionary and church extension society, showing a year of substantial progress. It was referred to a committee of five.

A Greenback Conference. LEADERS OF THE PARTY TALKING OVER THE SIT UATION.

The National Greenback conference, which met at Willard's hall to-day, was attended by representatives from eighteen states. Mr. George O. Jones called the meeting to order. Col. J. H. Ruter, of Florida, was elected chairman, and Messra, Roberts, of California, and Lanman, of New York, secretaries.

A committee of five to consider all resolutions offered and prepare an address was appointed as follows: Messra, George O. Jones, of New York; Lee Crandall, of Washington; J. M. Troth, of Virginia; Chas, Roberts, of California; Benj. Colvin, of Michigan, and R. W. Ruter, of Florida. Ruter, of Florida.
